I went to court on Monday, the judge threw their case out as they made multiple errors. I will keep you updated.

The court case about Bellview is still on.

They brought bailiffs illegally, with an illegal letter I had not received through the post.

In solidarity.

As in any battle, there are casualties. Those at the front (like where I put myself, whether I liked it or not) would expect them.

The little encouragement meant a lot to me, not to give up.

Thanks,

Fingers crossed.

I did my best. If I promise st, I will see it through. These guys are bad agents, playing dirty tricks.

Just watch out for yourself for now; and good luck. Every little win counts towards victory.
