

We have all experienced this event albeit in different ways.

September 11 another example.

Michael Jackson

Princess Diana

Rue Bausch

David Bowie

The Queen

Interested in looking at how we have been shaped / changed by the event. But for now just the event.

Tsunami

W2R

Internet / technology / social media

Climate change

Brexit

An event which most people will have some association to in one way or other.

- merchant of doubt - film on climate research

A conversation around conspiracy and misinformation issues, wandering through vaccines, covid, climate change, conspiracy to misinformation.

Is the collective event that we are all alive together in this moment and time?

Fear changes everything.

We talk about hope, responsibilities, different ages and how we experience the times. There's a sense of not knowing, being lost, unsure how to navigate the times.

Where is kindness? Is it playing a stronger role in outreach?

Consciousness in bringing a group of people together, that it's not just about the work and the choreographer, but that it's a collective endeavor. About bringing one's voice out.

K: There's so much mistrust and misinformation in the world and the only way we can counteract that is in our everyday is how we are with each other in the work..

Go functioning about how we see ourselves in society and
