I am dealing with the topic of life and its time (lifetime) commonly, which is based on recent knowledge in molecular biology.

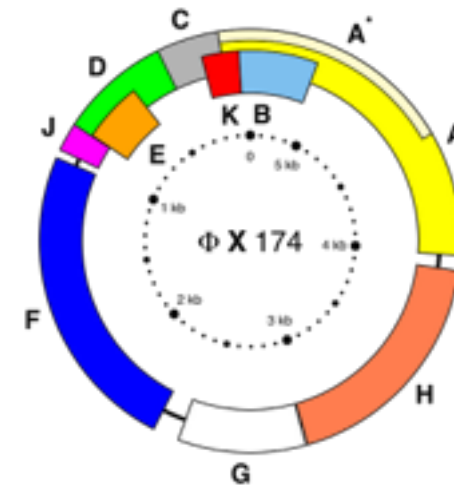

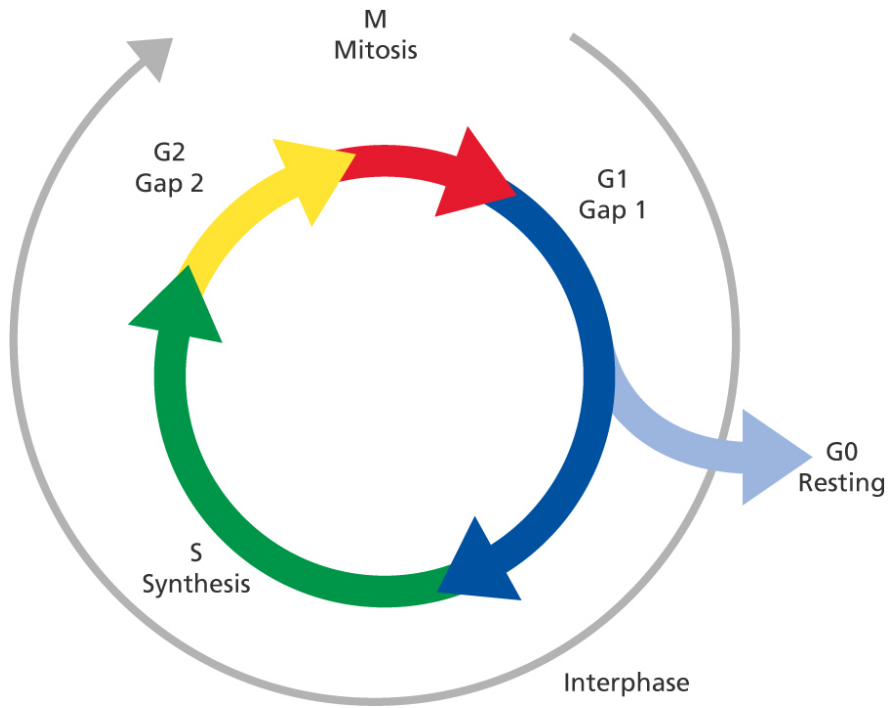

Image 1: The 5,386 bp genome of bacteriophage ϕ X174. Each coloured block represents a gene.

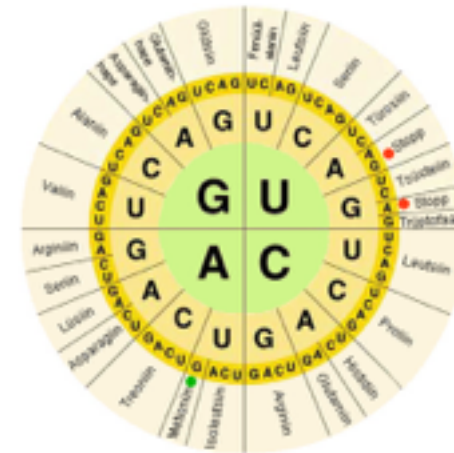

Image 2: A depiction of the genetic code, by which the information contained in nucleic acids are translated into amino acid sequences in proteins.

How it will be dealt literary, which is not by rhetoric way. But rather its research objective is the exploration of meta-epistemological compositional method.
