

OUTIN-HOME-OF-HOME

Look at you lying there all fluffy and happy and relaxed. You shouldn't waste so much time, you know? do you at least have a plan for the day? what? to watch k-dramas and eat pizza? do you understand how behind on everything it will make you?

Your home is for work, honey. It's just for making work more comfortable and efficient. Not for skipping things.

And do you need that many accessories? You have two cats on your head for fuck sake! Who is this all for? You're not on Kardashians show, no one will see how your socks match the hems of your pajama trousers.

Just keep you space clean, keep yourself clean, work, sleep, eat, repeat.

Don't make it into something special.

It's not

OUT-OF-HOME

Ah? You're still there?

It's okay to sit down and have tea from time to time, you know?

But whatever. Do as you please.

I'm gonna do my skin routine, and order ice cream.
