	Taste
	General	Feels like you are in a village or in a small rural town The close proximity of living quarters gives a sense of strong community.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Close proximity of front porches to the street and to the house across the street. Gives a sense of social exchanges among neighbours.</li> </ul>		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- I feel at a distance from the busy and bustling Toronto downtown, at a distance from the office, able to take a breath and relax. But I can still see the looming stress of the populated city... the water sparkles with the bright sun. Good thing I'm wearing sunglasses! (S,D and to some extent</li> </ul>
Memory		The greenery evoked the memory of childhood camping in the forest.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Red berries reminded of berries in park near childhood home.</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- a photo from Macchu Picchu brought memory of a friend.</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Blue jays birds remind of childhood memory of seeing colourful birds.</li> <li>- The shoreline brought memory of home/friends gathering by the sea back home.</li> </ul>
Places I paused		Paused on one spot to take a look at art. Art in the residential neighbourhoods seemed unusual but unique.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Paused because the overhanging trees and the large flowers provide a sense of calmness.</li> <li>- Paused to take a look at the plants on the window.</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- on the grass at the corner of a house because it was inviting.</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Pause to enjoy the scenery.</li> </ul>
