r.12 KONTAKTE für elektronische Klänge, Klavier und Schlagzeug

Aufführungspartitur

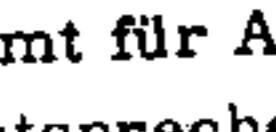

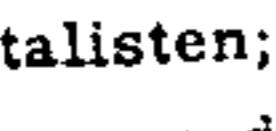

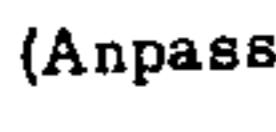

Otto Tomek gewidmet

Die Komposition KONTAKTE (1959/1960) existiert in 2 Fassungen:

Kontakte
elektronische Musik

I Kontakte
für elektronische Klänge, Klavier und Schlagzeug

Für die erste Fassung realisierte der Komponist ein 4-Spur-Tonband elektronischer Musik sowie stereophone und monophone Kopien dieses 4-Spur-Tonbandes im Studio für elektronische Musik des Westdeutschen Rundfunks Köln. Diese rein elektronische Fassung ist für Rundfunk- und Schallplattenwiedergaben bestimmt. Die Herstellung des 4-Spur-Tonbandes ist in einer Realisationspartitur beschrieben (UE 13678 LW).

Für die zweite Fassung wurde zum 4-Spur-Tonband eine Aufführungspartitur für zwei Instrumentalisten (Schlagzeuger, Pianist) komponiert. Diese Fassung ist bestimmt für Aufführungen in Sälen mit Instrumentalspiel und gleichzeitiger Wiedergabe des 4-Spur-Tonbandes über 4 Lautsprechergruppen (links, vorne, rechts, hinten) oder des 2-Spurigen Bandes (äußerste linke und rechte Seite des Podiums  oder, bei diagonaler Sitzordnung, in zwei gegenüberliegenden Saalecken  oder, bei geteilter Sitzordnung, an den gegenüberliegenden Wänden in der Saalmitte  , immer hinter oder neben den Instrumentalisten; bei der zuletzt genannten Anordnung empfiehlt es sich, jeden Kanal noch durch zusätzliche Lautsprechergruppen, die leiser eingestellt sind, zu unterstützen ). Die Lautstärkeregulierung der Tonbandwiedergabe (Anpassung an den jeweiligen Raum, Balance von Instrumenten und Lautsprechern) soll von der Saalmitte mithilfe eines 4-kanaligen oder 2-kanaligen Regelpultes erfolgen (möglichst mit Flachbahnreglern).

Als Verstärkerleistung für Lautsprecherwiedergaben haben sich folgende Werte aus der Praxis ergeben: bei 4-Spur-Wiedergabe rechnet man pro Sitzplatz 1 Watt und verteilt die Wattzahl auf vier gleiche Leistungsverstärker. Für einen Saal mit 800 Sitzplätzen benötigt man also vier 200 Watt Verstärker. Bei 2-Spur-Wiedergabe rechnet man pro Sitzplatz 1/2 Watt und verteilt die Wattzahl auf zwei gleiche Leistungsverstärker. Für 800 Sitzplätze benötigt man dann zwei 200 Watt Verstärker.

Es ergibt sich bei dieser Berechnung, daß die Verstärker im Mittelbereich ausgesteuert und nur bei einigen Akzenten in ihrem extremen Wirkungsbereich ausgenutzt werden.

Es empfiehlt sich (besonders bei halligen Räumen), möglichst gerichtete Lautsprecher und bei 4-Spur-Wiedergabe in großen Sälen für jede Gruppe mehrere mit Abstand gehängte Lautsprecher zu verwenden. Die Lautsprecher sollten oberhalb der Kopfhöhe gehängt werden, und die Sitzplätze sollten erst in genügendem Abstand beginnen. Für 4-Spur-Wiedergabe ist ein quadratischer oder runder Saal unerlässlich.

Die Aufführungspartitur dient den Instrumentalisten zur Synchronisation ihres Spiels mit der Tonbandwiedergabe. Auf die obere, von zwei stärkeren Linien eingefasste Fläche jeder Seite ist eine schematische Darstellung des elektronischen Teils gezeichnet. Die Zahlen über der oberen Linie geben die im Maßstab dargestellte Zeit in Minuten, Sekunden und Zehntelsekunden an. Sekundenzahlen zwischen den Linien oder unter der zweiten Linie sind Dauern von Abschnitten. Kleine Zahlen ohne " sind cm für Tonbandlängen (38,1 cm/s). Eingeklammerte Zahlen bezeichnen Dezibel; sie gelten immer als Minuswerte. 0 dB entspricht Vollaussteuerung (laut), ∞ entspricht unhörbar leise. Zahlen mit + sind dB-Werte über 0 dB hinaus (für Akzente bis +6 dB). Römische Zahlen geben Lautsprecher an: I links, II vorne, III rechts, IV hinten; I/III Klänge kommen aus Lautsprechern links und rechts; $\frac{I}{III}$ eine Klangschicht kommt von links, die andere von rechts. "Alternierend": Klänge wechseln zwischen den angegebenen Lautsprechern kontinuierlich hin und her. "Rotation": Klänge rotieren rechts oder links herum mit angegebener Geschwindigkeit (oft ist dazu noch Fixierung in einem oder in zwei Lautsprechern). "Flutklang": Klänge kommen aus einem Lautsprecher und mit kurzer Zeitverzögerung aus einem zweiten (zum Beispiel II-IV), was den Eindruck durch den Raum flutenden Klanges erweckt. "Schleifen": rotierende Bewegung in Schleifenform, zum Beispiel I-III-IV-II etc., oder umgekehrt. Unterhalb dieser schematischen Darstellung ist notiert, was der Schlagzeuger zu spielen hat. Das untere System gilt dem Pianisten, der Klavier und einige Schlaginstrumente spielt.

No. 12 KONTAKTE for electronic sounds, piano and percussion

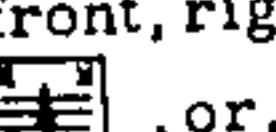

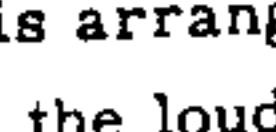

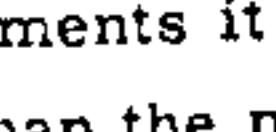

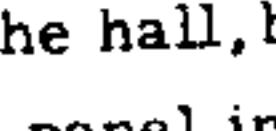

Performance score

Dedicated to Otto Tomek

The composition KONTAKTE (1959/1960) exists in two versions:

- I Kontakte
electronic music
- II Kontakte
for electronic sounds, piano and percussion

For the first version the composer realised a 4-track tape of electronic music and also made stereo and mono copies of this 4-track tape in the studio for electronic music of the West German Radio in Cologne. This purely electronic version is intended for broadcasting and reproduction on gramophone records. The production of the 4-track tape is described in a Realisation Score (UE 13678 LW).

For the second version a Performance Score for two instrumentalists (percussionist, pianist) was composed to go with the 4-track tape. This version is intended for performances in halls that offer the possibility of instrumental performance and, simultaneously, playback of the 4-track tape over 4 groups of loudspeakers (at left, front, right and behind); or alternatively playback of the 2-track tape (at the extreme left and right end of the stage , or, if the seating is arranged in two diagonally opposite corners of the hall , or, if the seating is arranged in two halves, on the facing walls half-way down the length of the hall . Whatever the arrangement, the loudspeakers should be behind or beside the instrumentalists. In the case of the latter of these possible arrangements it is recommended that each channel should be supported by additional groups of loudspeakers, tuned softer than the main ones ). The regulation of the loudness of the tape playback (adjustment according to the size of the hall, balance between instruments and loudspeakers) should be carried out from a 4-channel or 2-channel control panel in the centre of the hall. Flat, straight-line potentiometers are recommended rather than the knob-turning variety. The following degrees of amplification for the loudspeakers have been found suitable in practice: for a 4-track playback one reckons 1 Watt per seat, and the number arrived at is divided equally among four amplifiers. For example: for a hall with 800 seats, four 200 Watt amplifiers are needed. For a 2-track playback one reckons 1/2 Watt per seat, and divides the number arrived at between two equal amplifiers. Therefore 800 seats require two 200 Watt amplifiers. From this calculation it follows that the amplifiers are generally used in their medium range: their extreme effective range is used only for a few accents. Directional loudspeakers are recommended (particularly for reverberant halls), and in case of a 4-track playback it is suggested that several loudspeakers hung at intervals should be used for each group. The loudspeakers should be suspended somewhat above head-height, and the seating should only start after a sufficient interval of empty space. A square or round hall is essential for performance with 4-track playback.

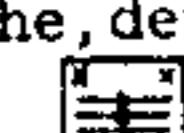

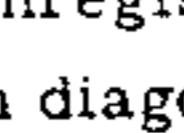

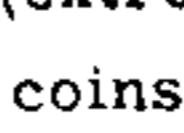

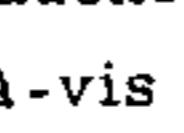

The Performance Score is used by the instrumentalists for the synchronisation of their music with the tape playback. The electronic part is drawn schematically in the top portion of each page, in the area enclosed by two bold lines. The numbers above the top line indicate the time (drawn to scale) in minutes, seconds and tenths of seconds. Timings in seconds written between the lines or below the second line represent the durations of particular sections. The small numbers without the two strokes ("') refer to lengths of tape in centimetres (38.1 cms per sec. = 15 inches per sec.). Numbers in brackets are decibels: they are always minus quantities. 0 dB corresponds to full volume (loud), ∞ represents soft to the point of inaudibility. Numbers preceded by a + sign are decibel values that exceed the full volume (values up to +6 dB are used for accents). Roman numerals indicate the loudspeakers: I is at the left, II in front, III at the right, IV behind; I/III means that sounds are coming from the loudspeakers on the left and right; $\frac{I}{III}$ means that one layer of sound is coming from the left, the other from the right. "Alternierend" means that the sounds alternate continuously between the indicated loudspeakers. "Rotation": sounds rotate to the right or left with the indicated speed (in addition often there is a fixed sound in one or two loudspeakers). "Flutklang": sounds come from one loudspeaker, and then immediately from another (eg II-IV), which gives the impression of the sound flooding through the hall. "Schleifen": rotating movement in the form of a loop, eg I-III-IV-II etc., or vice versa. Below this schematic drawing of the electronic part is noted what the percussionist has to play. The bottom system is for the pianist, who plays piano and some percussion instruments.

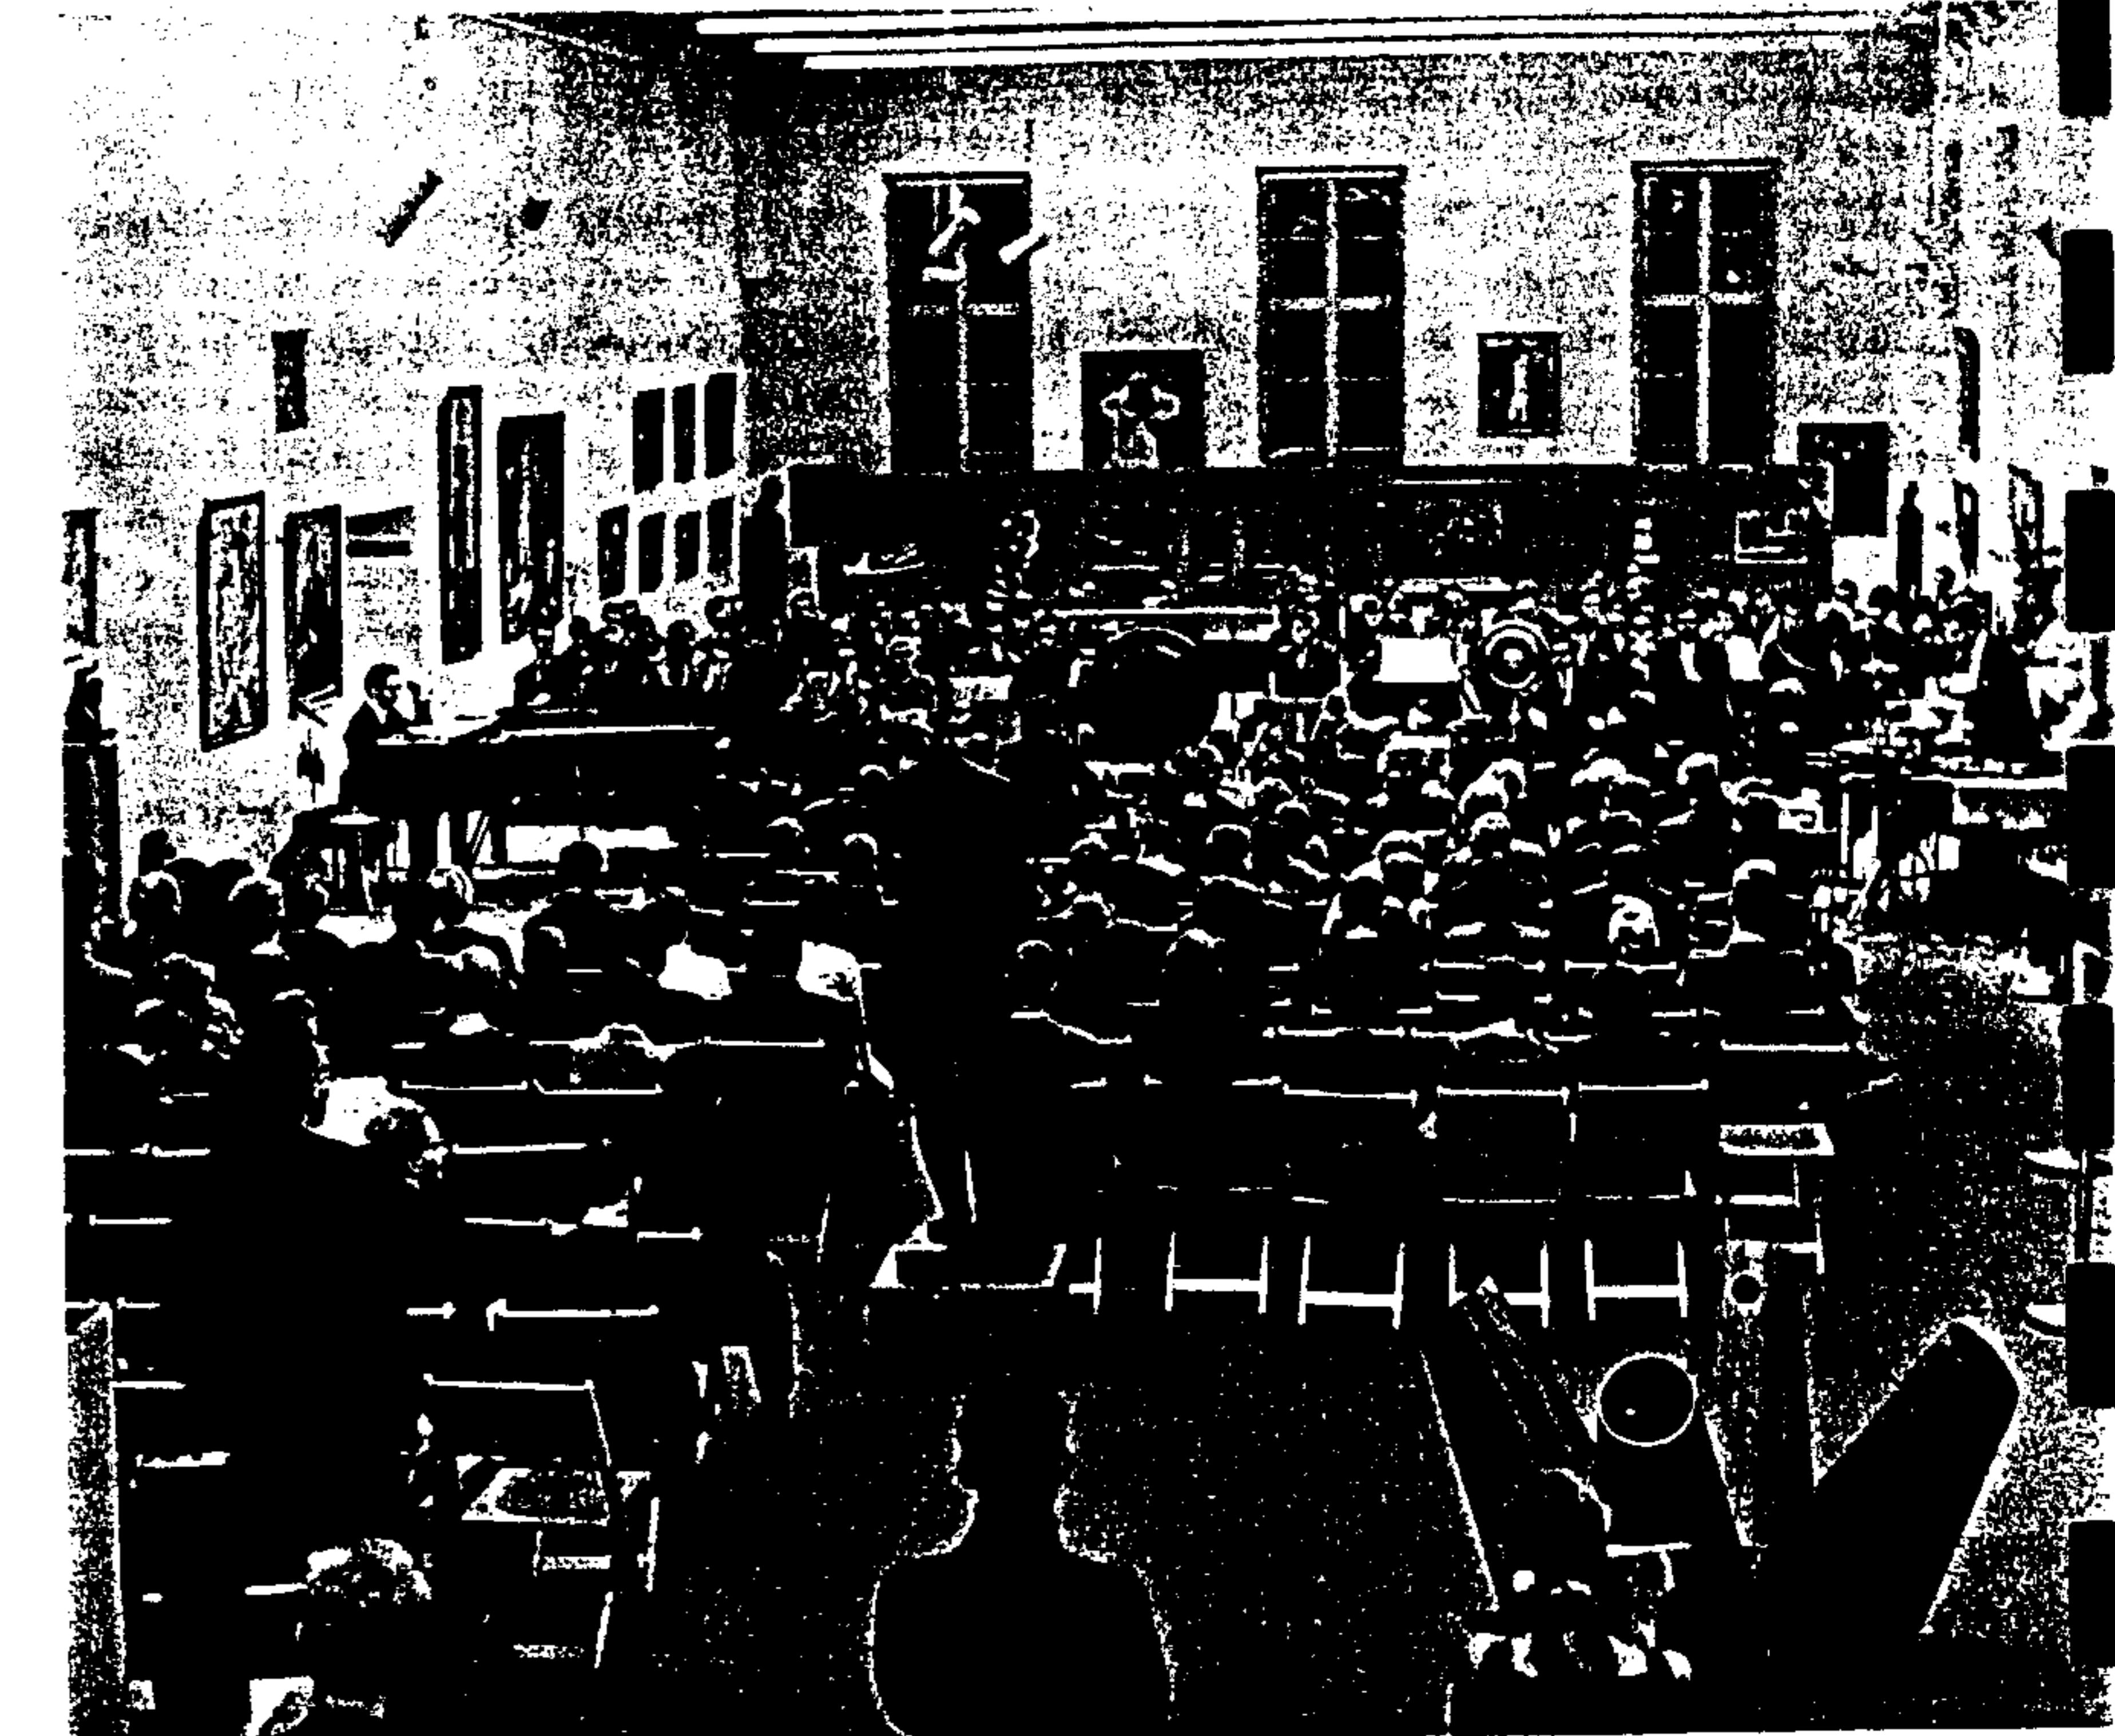

Partition instrumentale

à Otto Tomek

La composition KONTAKTE (1959/1960) existe en deux versions:

I Kontakte
musique électroniqueII Kontakte
pour sons électroniques, piano et percussion

Pour la première version, le compositeur a réalisé (au studio de musique électronique de la Westdeutscher Rundfunk à Cologne) une bande enregistrée à 4 pistes de musique électronique, ainsi qu'une copie stéréophonique et une copie monaurale de cette bande originale. Cette version purement électronique est destinée aux reproductions radiophoniques et sur disques. La confection de la bande enregistrée à 4 pistes est décrite dans une partition électronique (UE 13678 LW). Pour la deuxième version, une partition instrumentale pour deux instrumentistes (batteur et pianiste) a été spécialement composée en sus de la bande enregistrée à 4 pistes. Cette version est destinée à des exécutions en salle comportant le jeu instrumental et la reproduction simultanée de la bande enregistrée à 4 pistes par 4 groupes de haut-parleurs (gauche, devant, droite, derrière) ou de la bande enregistrée à 2 pistes (extrême gauche et extrême droite de l'estrade  ou, pour une disposition des sièges en diagonale, dans deux coins vis-à-vis  ou, pour une disposition des sièges divisée, au milieu de deux murs vis-à-vis  , toujours derrière ou à côté des instrumentistes; pour la dernière disposition mentionnée, il est recommandé de renforcer chaque canal par des groupes de haut-parleurs supplémentaires réglés moins fort ). Le réglage de l'intensité de reproduction de la bande enregistrée (adaptation aux particularités du local, balance des instruments et des haut-parleurs) doit s'effectuer du milieu de la salle à l'aide d'un pupitre de commande à 4 ou à 2 canaux, selon les cas (de préférence, potentiomètres à curseur). Quant à la capacité des amplificateurs utilisés pour la reproduction de la partie enregistrée, l'expérience pratique a permis de fixer les valeurs suivantes: pour des exécutions à 4 canaux, compter 1 Watt par siège, et distribuer le total des Watts sur quatre amplis de puissance égale. Pour une salle de 800 places, on utilisera donc quatre amplis de 200 Watts. Pour des exécutions à 2 canaux, compter 1/2 Watt par siège et distribuer le total des Watts sur deux amplis de puissance égale. Pour 800 places, on utilisera deux amplis de 200 Watts. Il résulte de cette estimation que les amplis sont employés surtout dans leur zone de travail moyen, et que seuls quelques accents utilisent leur zone extrême. Il est recommandé d'utiliser des haut-parleurs aussi directionnels que possible (surtout dans des salles à forte réverbération), et pour les exécutions à 4 canaux en grandes salles, d'employer pour chaque groupe plusieurs haut-parleurs suspendus à distance l'un de l'autre. Les haut-parleurs devraient être suspendus au-dessus de la hauteur des têtes, et les sièges ne devraient commencer qu'à une certaine distance. Pour les exécutions à 4 canaux, une salle ronde ou carrée est indispensable. La partition instrumentale sert aux instrumentistes et leur permet de synchroniser leur jeu avec la reproduction de la bande magnétique. Dans la partie supérieure de chaque page, délimitée par deux traits plus gras, une représentation schématique de la partie électronique a été dessinée. Les chiffres au dessus du trait supérieur indiquent les minutes, secondes et dixièmes de secondes correspondant à la représentation proportionnelle du temps. Les petits chiffres sans " indiquent en cm des portions de bande magnétique (38,1 cm/sec.). Les chiffres entre parenthèses indiquent des décibels: ce sont toujours des valeurs négatives. 0 dB correspond à une sortie maximum (fort), ∞ correspond à inaudible. Les chiffres pourvus d'un + représentent des valeurs de décibels au-dessus du maximum de puissance (pour des accents jusqu'à +6 dB). Les chiffres romains indiquent les haut-parleurs: I à gauche, II devant, III à droite, IV derrière; I/III les sons viennent des haut-parleurs de gauche et de droite; ^IIII une couche sonore vient de gauche, l'autre de droite. "Alternierend": sons alternant continuellement entre les haut-parleurs indiqués. "Rotation": sons tournant vers la droite ou vers la gauche à une vitesse indiquée (souvent simultané à des sons fixes dans un ou deux haut-parleurs). "Flutklang": sons venant de deux haut-parleurs différents avec un léger retard entre les deux (par exemple II-IV), ce qui donne l'impression d'un flux sonore traversant l'espace. "Schleifen": mouvement rotatif en forme de boucle, par exemple I-III-II-IV etc., ou inversément. En-dessous de cette représentation schématique est noté ce que doit jouer le batteur. Le système inférieur est réservé au pianiste, qui joue le piano et quelques instruments de batterie.

The score is a complex handwritten musical composition for various instruments and voices. It features four main sections labeled IA, IB, IC, and ID, each with specific performance instructions and time signatures.

- IA: Features a piano part with dynamics like mf, f, and p. It includes instructions for "dünne Trommelstücke" (thin drum pieces) and "Rand trumme".
- IB: Labeled "In allen Verschiedenes I/II/III/IV". It contains two staves of abstract, scribbled patterns with dynamics f and pp.
- IC: Labeled "Alternierend I ↔ III". It includes a vocal line with lyrics: "mif. - . ; - . ; : - . ; - .".
- ID: Labeled "In allen das Gleiche I/II/III/IV". It features a vocal line with lyrics: "ff. - . ; - . ; : - . ; - .".

Performance instructions include "vibraschlegel rit.", "Fuß pp", and "nt.". The score also includes a section for "Klavier" with a dynamic f and a instruction "am Rand entlang 1x im Kreis streichen". Various time signatures and measures are indicated throughout the score.
