Dear Participant,

We welcome you to join us during today's Archetype experiment. During this experiment we will test both you and the functionality of your chosen archetype to evaluate whether they can contribute to the collections of the Museum of Lost Ecologies.

You have selected the 'Anthropologist' archetype. With this letter you will find an instruction enclosed for the collecting practice. Here is a rundown of your role, responsibilities, and skillset:

'We are here and now in multiple intraconnected worlds, interwoven times, wondering about the way we are, we do, we live in fluid exchange and interdependencies with each other (the living/non-living, organic/inorganic, human/non-human and the other who can not be yet put into these categories). We gaze and try to make sense out of these "reality-onalities" in which we last. Together in conversation. Together in (dis)agreement(s) - in (mis)understanding(s). We last and become and forget and re-establish. What Terra would we build if the world has started now?'

We look - sense and analyze the complex web of relationships with writing, photography and voice notes, these are our strengths which we use in order to understand the world.

Program of today's experiment:

- (Un)Becoming practice
- Collecting evaluation
- (Un)Becoming practice

After we have conducted this experiment, there will be ample time to discuss your experience and give feedback for past/present/future improvements. We look forward to having you on our team.

Yours faithfully,

Dr. Cell (they/them) & Dr. S. Walker (she/they)
