

THE SILENCE in the press regarding my recent tunneling expedition through the crust of the Earth and beyond is both perplexing and suspicious. The results of the expedition are undeniable, despite the fact that all documentation was lost in the ascent to the surface (in an unlikely kitchen accident). Not one reporter has even taken the time to visit and interview me, Professor Brown, MBE, at Mrs. Twombly's Home for the Mentally Unhinged.