

Expand your imagination to envision alternative futures!

Arts universities have the potential to play a pivotal role in challenging times and the students are vital actors, often the voice of change. Nine students are here presenting their thesis, essays and parts of their degree projects!

The Master program in Film and Media “The Art of Impact” is focused on how art has an impact on society and how art can change the society we live in. The program is research preparatory and consists of two years of full-time studies at advanced level.

Working in different formats and new technology on digital platforms, the students have deepened their understanding of storytelling and its potential impact on their audiences. Community outreach, innovation, as well as global and urban contexts all interconnect, integrating sustainability skills and thinking to boost innovation and creativity in transition initiatives.

Storytelling in challenging times. Hello future, here we come!

Tinna Joné

Head of subject Film & Media

Assistant professor in documentary storytelling

Stockholm University of the Arts