Marike Hoekstra (1966) is an artist-teacher-researcher, working in the Netherlands. In 2018 she graduated as a PhD at the University of Chester, UK, with a doctoral thesis titled “Artist Teachers and Democratic Pedagogy”. Marike works as a researcher and teaches at different institutions for higher art education in the Netherlands. As an artist she works with drawing and installation art. Marike is interested in the way artist teachers and studio spaces can contribute to art education as a site for third space pedagogies.
