

Displacement
(carried within)

Belonging

*Instead of asking,
Where do you come from?
Where do you belong?
Where is your home?
Inhabit the broken journeys,
the joining, meeting,
severing
and dismantling,
sewing up of edges,
re-forming into something new.
The taking of one thread from here
and
one thread from there,
that tie us together,
temporarily,
to where we are now.*
